Receptiveness of savage races for miasmatic illnesses, which arise spontaneously on the meeting of savage & civilized races

This part gives a great number of accounts of spontaneous illnesses, & of the greater ranges of moderately harmful European illnesses - It is then to account for this - is not that there is some noxious influence emanating from the civilized races caused by their being shut up in ships etc - but that we are all inoculated, as it were, from our earliest childhood with the germs of all kinds of infectious disorders - but that we partly by inheritance & partly by use are able to form these germs in a latent state - These same germs being quite able to in= fect savage races - He gives in proof of this - that certain illnesses seem only to appear at certain intervals - that the innoculation only lasts a certain number of years & then wears out when we are again liable to the attack of this epidemic.

(I suppose under certain conditions is understood - A.S.D.)

because we have assimilated their nature to ours & so they are not wholly inimical to us.

Directly brought in diseases

The same principle applies to directly brought in ^{infections & contaminations} diseases

The first introduction was the most violent but they continued to rage furiously -

The worst of all the smallpox

It broke out in Mexico 1520 brought by a slave - raged then carried to Acadilla where it raged amongst the natives without killing one European -

Haig says Smallpox has killed more than ~~as~~ drinking together in America - at least $\frac{1}{2}$ perhaps $\frac{2}{3}$ of the Population

According to Meinerke Small pox broke out spontaneously in New Holland

We now come to the original illnesses of ^{savage} ~~original~~ races.

4) Illness Treatment of ~~the~~ Sickness in Savage Races

All dangerous illnesses are made worse than mis-treatment

6 In America steam baths with cold washing & iced after many always killed the patients.

In Australia they only exercise evil spirits whom they suppose the cause of all illness - They pretend to draw a bit of stone out of them - They kill the bewitcher & rub the bewitched with his sweat, or to bleed away the magic.
They are clever in outside injuries & serpent bites -

They are buried before they are dead in Ice-ice so that they may not return the living. In the New Hebrides they kill delirious patients so that they may infect others - In Indonesian it is all taken for work of demons, tho' they practice blood letting & such means - they

In Polynesia the sick are not cured for. In New Guinea they hold the nose & the mouth of the sick to ^{keep} ~~hold~~ the ^{spirit or life} ~~blood~~ person.

only in New Zealand they knew better how to manage -

They used hot springs, light food, & rubbing of the limbs - In Tahiti they hold it wicked to take medicines but they

P are clean surgeons

The Mexicans are acquainted with medicines - but put more faith in magic. - The drawing out of the stone found in Haiti & Brazil as well as Australia. The ^{the Amer.} Botokuda in alone use natural means Steam baths all over America Real Doctors & magic doctors The Aborigines consider it all as the work of evil spirits - & they & in the Antilles draw out the stone (or here bone) as in Australia In America & Africa they punish unsuccessful doctors
